Civic Space in the 'Cradle of Liberty'

Philadelphia's history is written in its public spaces. Explore national treasures, innovative urban thinking, and hidden gems across the city including art and design in Fairmount Park, the Beaux Arts grounds of the Ben Franklin Parkway, the Rodin Museum and the Philadelphia Museum of Art, the Colonial heritage and Colonial Revival design in Independence Park, the groundbreaking Modernist expressions of Society Hill, and the Postmodernist plazas of Venturi Scott Brown. The tours reveal the back story about city shaping, landscape architecture and the design history of significant landscapes all over the city. Many are places people pass daily, but do we know their background stories?

What's Out There Weekend dovetails with the Web-based What's Out There (tclf.org/landscapes), the nation's most comprehensive searchable database of historic designed landscapes. The database offers a broad and interconnected way to discover the breadth of America's historic designed landscapes, while What's Out There Weekend gives people the opportunity to experience the landscapes they might see every day in a new way.

After exploring some of Philadelphia's remarkable parks, gardens, and public spaces, why not take a break with a picnic?

During What's Out There Weekend, Le Pain Quotidien is offering custom picnic boxes for a special rate of $50. Le Pain Quotidien's compact picnic boxes are recyclable and easy-to-carry. The meal includes four beverages, three specialty boxes, and one bag of assorted breads.

Place your order at least 36 hours before pickup by calling the Le Pain Quotidien Catering Department at 202-997-6202 or e-mailing to slin@pqus.com

Picnic boxes are available for pickup at our two Le Pain Quotidien Philadelphia locations:
1423 Walnut Street -and- 801 Walnut Street

Le Pain Quotidien is committed to sustainable practices. We source organic products whenever possible and our packing is eco-friendly and recyclable.

The Cultural Landscape Foundation (TCLF) provides people with the ability to see, understand, evaluate and appreciate landscape architecture and its practitioners, in the way many people have learned to do with buildings and architects. Through its Web site, lectures, outreach and publishing, TCLF broadens the support and understanding for cultural landscapes nationwide.
